Update of Company Operations for RightAngle™ Products

We as a company wanted to provide an update on our company operations in light of the recent Safer At Home Order issued by the State of Wisconsin - Department of Health Services on March 24, 2020.

According to Emergency Order #12 Safer At Home, RightAngle™ Products / K & A Manufacturing, Inc. is an Essential Business. Section 13 outlines that essential businesses include those that sell, manufacture, and supply products for those who work from home (13.q) and for other essential businesses & operations (section 13.r).

This allows the RightAngle™ office and factory to remain open and fully operational. Our team is working diligently to accept orders, provide customer assistance, and deliver products in a timely manner. Additionally, we will remain compliant with all CDC and WHO policies and recommendations to ensure the health and safety of employees and customers alike.

For those who have placed orders, contact customer service to confirm if the recipient is still able to receive deliveries. Any additional costs due to undeliverable shipments will be the customer's responsibility. With many areas limiting business operations, your shipment will remain on hold until a response is received.

On behalf of the entire RightAngle™ team, we hope you remain safe and healthy during this time. If you have any further questions, feel free to connect with us by calling 800.298.4351 or emailing info@raproducts.com.
